lette, Humphrey Marshall, Boyd Winchester, and Dr. Sherrard.

THE PROCESSION.

Brilliant Decoration of the Journal
Office and Other Public Institutions.

A Splendid Opening of the Campaign in the West.

THE EVENING.

Last night will not be soon forgotten by the people of the old Falls City. It was indeed a spectacle. The darkness was made dazzling with illuminations; and the roar of cannon and musketry was heard in the distance.

Restoration is the object of the Democratic party; reconstruction is the policy of the radicals.

[Cheers.]

He then referred to the public debt, how it was proposed to be paid by the Democratic party and the radical party, and closed with two appeals.

The arrival of the procession here interrupted the speaker.

The speaker continued:

The Democratic party proposes that all that is good in the South. The radical bondsman, with his kid gloves and ruffled shirt, must be used. There is no room for the man who is a radical, and when a Governor is elected who is not a radical, he will be a bachelor, and one of their tools put in his place. They have been thinking at it, and they have not been able to decide what they are to do. They will be asked to take an oath, and then they will be asked to be trusted. Can their pledge be taken? No; no; we will not be asked to take an oath.

They have come forward and proposed the reconstruction idea. Who will be a greater butt than Shiloh? It is a greater butt than Shiloh.

The Democratic party enters on this campaign with a spirit of enthusiasm and a desire to do well.

Restoration is the object of the Demo-
